EARLY BREAK SEEN IN SOFT COAL DISPUTE

DISTRICT OFFICERS CALLED IN BY JOHN L. LEWIS

(By The Associated Press)

A possible early break in the soft coal dispute was foreshadowed Thursday night when John L. Lewis summoned to Washington the 30 union district presidents who would have to approve any settlement plan.

The union-government wage talks were recessed until Monday without any report on progress, but the call to the union's district officers indicated the negotiations had reached the stage where an important decision was to be made.

Lewis plans to end his present contract with the government on behalf of his 400,000 United Mine Workers November 20, although Secretary of Interior Krug has questioned the legality of such a move. Neither Lewis nor Krug has attended the Washington wage talks, which have been conducted by their lieutenants, but both may be present Monday.

Wage Talks Revived

Meanwhile, striking Trans World Airline pilots started a new government arbitration plan for ending their 17-day-old strike and the CIO United Farm Equipment Workers opened new wage talks in Chicago on behalf of 30,000 International Harvester company employees.

TWA officials in Washington have promised that airline operations would be resumed as soon as the union's 11 councils ratify the proposal, but David L. Behnke, union president, said the strikers' decision might not be known "for several days."

The Farm Equipment Workers Union made no specific wage demand in their opening conference, which a company spokesman described as "exploratory." The company's 30,000 production workers were granted an 18 cents hourly pay boost last April after an 80-day strike.

Their new general demands included an unspecified wage increase, elimination of inequities in some classifications, guaranteed annual wages, elimination of piece work systems and company payment of group insurance premiums.

Although the present contract runs until next April, the wage issue was subject to reopening at the union's request.

At Uniontown, Pa., a strike of 110 teachers which had left 3,200 students idle for 27 days was tentatively settled when the school board pledged to grant any pay raises possible immediately and to put a $400 boost for each teacher in the 1947 school budget.

A strike against the Philadelphia Record and Camden (N.J.) Courier-Post was called by 577 CIO American Newspaper Guild members in support of wage and other demands, but management of the newspapers said they expected to continue publication by using executives to fill posts vacated by strikers.

Distribution of two Detroit afternoon newspapers, the News and Times, was delayed by a wage dispute involving the AFL International Typographical Union. A union meeting to discuss stalemate negotiations held up the early edition of the Times, and the News management said the dispute affected all Detroit papers.

Also in Detroit, the CIO United Auto Workers Union policy committee announced "full support" of strikers in the Allis-Chalmers plants at West Allis, Wis., and the J. I. Case Co., at Racine, Wis., and Rockford, Ill.

STATE INCOME LEVY POSSIBLE

Added Revenue Needed To Offset Bonus And Tax Diversion

Lansing, Nov. 7 (AP)—Rep. John P. Espie, chairman of the House Ways and Means committee, raised the prospect of a state income tax today as a result of the voters' approval Tuesday of the sales tax diversion and veterans' bonus amendments.

Agreeing that the constitution forbids a graduated income tax, Espie asserted he had legal backing for his stand that a "straight" income tax of one or two per cent on everyone's income" was constitutional.

He declined to predict what course the legislature would take but he said the combination of the bonus and sales tax diversion indicated the possibility of retrenching state grants to local governments and new taxes.

Opposing a higher sales tax or nuisance taxes, Espie said the legislature could consider a payroll or a return to the state property tax.

The necessity of raising at least $17,000,000 a year to pay the bonus with state revenues reduced by the sales tax rebate, makes it likely, Espie said, that the legislature will take away from cities the income from the intangible and 10 per cent liquor tax, totaling more than $18,000,000 last year.

McKELLAR ENDORSES
VANDENBERG AS TOP
OFFICER OF SENATE

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 7 (AP)—Thousands of Russians who packed into Red Square today for the 29th anniversary celebration of the Bolshevik Revolution saw one of their smallest military displays in years and heard Marshal Leonid A. Goryov portray the Soviet Union as a nation striving to insure peace for all the world.

Present only in pictures was Generalissimo Joseph Stalin, who five years ago viewed the parade while German armies were hammering at the approaches to Moscow. His pictures were hung against the great backdrop of the ancient square, but he made no personal appearance.

"Would you like to have the opportunity of returning the compliment?" a reporter asked the 77-year-old lawmaker today.

"I certainly would," was the reply. "Vandenberg is a fine man. He would make a good presiding officer."

Two Adrift At Sea Saved By Freighter; No Food For Week

New York, Nov. 7 (AP)—Two residents of the Canary Island, who had been without food for a week and without water for four days while adrift in a 30-foot sailboat, were rescued by the crew of a freighter today 470 miles south of Cape Cod.

The Coast Guard search and rescue center here said the men were picked up by the S. S. James Smith, 7,000-ton freighter, shortly after noon and were being taken to a Canadian port.

Building Material Controls Hold Up New Ceiling List

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—Uncertainty over what to do about controls or building materials tonight delayed issuance of a "master list" of items to be kept under price ceilings.

"It is doubtful that final action will be taken until next week," an administration official told a reporter. This list had been anticipated this week-end.

Immediate action, he said, is bogged down on the problem of building materials. Another high official commented that the administration's election setback will bring no slackening of price and wage controls.

There has been much interagency discussion of what shall be kept on the list.

Price Administrator Paul Porter had asked Stabilization Director John R. Steelman for a ruling on the decontrol question. Steelman had a number of conferences with others concerned. He reportedly was giving much consideration to the contention of building contractors that the veterans emergency housing program would be speeded if price controls should be lifted from building materials. This action has been strongly opposed by housing expediter Wilson W. Wyatt.

One official reported that Steelman has two possible control lists up for consideration.

One proposes that controls be retained only on rents, sugar, syrup and rice.

The other proposes that controls be retained on those items plus automobiles and such basic commodities as coal, lumber, building material, steel and other metals, and their products.

The OPA announced today that a price increase of about 7 per cent will be granted next week on 517 rayon fabrics, the production of which has dropped because of low profit margins under present ceilings.

Higher prices were posted today for many infants' and children's cotton garments and some other clothing items.

Sigler Goes South; GOP Dinner Nov. 21

BOLSHEVIST REVOLUTION ANNIVERSARY HAS SMALL MILITARY DISPLAY

Moscow, Nov. 7 (AP)—Thousands of Russians who packed into Red Square today for the 29th anniversary celebration of the Bolshevik Revolution saw one of their smallest military displays in years and heard Marshal Leonid A. Goryov portray the Soviet Union as a nation striving to insure peace for all the world.

The get-acquainted banquet was announced today after the first of a series of meetings between Sigler and other state administrative officers at his hotel suite here.

It will offer those who work together in the state government the opportunity to "get together and get acquainted," the announcement said. Detroit was chosen as the site because of the Republicans' sweep of Wayne county for the first time in 14 years.

In all Democratic members of the next legislature attend the affair, there will not be more than 11. Latest returns from Tuesday's election showed that the Republicans captured at least 93 of 100 seats in the House and all but four of the 32 in the Senate.

Sigler said he planned to take a few days rest with his wife and probably will leave for the South this weekend.

STALIN MISSING AT RED SQUARE

Detroit, Nov. 7 (AP)—Members of the dominantly Republican 1947-48 state legislature will be guests of Governor-elect Kim Sigler and his "cabinet" at a GOP victory and unity dinner here Nov. 21.

WHITE HOUSE SPURNS IDEA OF RESIGNING

PRESIDENT SET TO FACE REPUBLICAN HOUSECLEANING

BY ERNEST B. VACCARO

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—President Truman brushed aside as fantastic today even the possibility that he will resign to turn over the presidency to the victorious Republicans.

Final authorization had depended on the adoption of a constitutional amendment Tuesday permitting the state to spend money for airports and harbors of refuge.

The money already had been appropriated by the legislature, but had been held in escrow until the constitution was amended.

That he has not even toyed with the idea of quitting is confirmed by everyone who has talked with the president since Tuesday's Republican landslide.

This is the firm view expressed by everyone who knows the president, including newspapermen who have followed him since he entered the White House upon the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Quick Change Intended

The idea of resignation was proposed by Senator Fulbright (D-Ark).

It would involve the appointment of a Republican Secretary of State immediately preceding the resignation, enabling the appointee to succeed to the presidency.

Fulbright himself stuck by his idea today but said he did not intend to do anything about it—that he had merely advanced it as an observation.

He repeated, however, that he will introduce in the new congress a constitutional amendment to permit a quick change in the event of another such power split.

The resignation plan, the Arkansas told reporters, was merely a suggestion for a quick way to deal with the current situation.

He said there is no question as to its legality in view of the constitution's mention of "resignation" of the chief executive. As to procedure, he said the logical person to receive a resignation would be the president of the Senate, who normally receives electoral returns.

"I wish to congratulate Senator Vandenberg on his re-election," Lee said in a statement. "I sincerely hope that the bi-partisan cooperation in the handling of our nation's foreign affairs and the making of the peace, which was so forcefully emphasized in the election, will continue."

He repeated, however, that he will introduce in the new congress a constitutional amendment to permit a quick change in the event of another such power split.

CITY SUBMITS DOCK SITE BID

Offers $65,000 For Site On North Bay Shore To Government

The city of Escanaba has submitted a $65,000 bid to the War Assets Administration for the purchase of the government-owned ore dock property on the north bay shore in Escanaba, it was revealed at the regular meeting of the council last night.

There were three bids received by the WAA in Minneapolis Wednesday. One was from the city, one from the Maple Free Lumber company, a Wisconsin corporation, for everything but the land at a price of $11,500; and the third was by B. J. Gallagher of Escanaba, who bid $6,550 for only the dock pilings and cappings.

All of the bids were forwarded from Minneapolis to Washington and final determination is expected within about two weeks.

To Sell Timbers

The city seeks the land for possible industrial development, and for possible location of an airport farther inland. There was a fourth bidder, the C. & S. Construction company of Escanaba, but their bid was withdrawn when they agreed to negotiate with them on the sale to them of dock timbers and piling in which they were solely interested.

The council last night authorized the manager to negotiate with the C. & S. company on the resale of the timbers if the city's bid is accepted.

City Manager A. V. Aronson said that a delegation which had conferred with WAA officials had requested a piece of the land for airport purposes. If this is approved by the government, there would be a deduction of approximately $4,200 from the city's bid. This possible deduction, plus the proposed resale of dock timber to the C. & S. company would reduce the city's outlay for the property considerably.

$13,000 Down Payment

The manager also was authorized by the council to make an initial payment of $13,000 or 20 per cent of the total bid if it is accepted by the government. The city has asked 60 days in which to arrange its financing of the purchase.

Other business before the council last night included:

Authorized sale of the old isolation hospital, 1220 South 15th street, to Mose Myers, who occupies the building. Myers' bid $2,200 for the property, and his was only bid received.

Approved issuance of a dance permit to Mrs. Henry Marenger of the Union tavern.

Authorized erection of street lights at Seventh avenue south and 19th street, and at 14th avenue north and 23rd street. Estimated cost is $145 per light.

Authorized receiving bids for the sale of a city-owned steam heating boiler formerly used in the city hall, and no longer used because the city hall is connected with central heating steam mains.

Authorized advertising for bids for the sale of 40 acres of land near the city ski park at a minimum of $150.

Ten Nations Asked To Help U. S. Divide Nippon Reparations

BY JOHN SCALI

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—In a move to break a deadlock with Russia, the United States has asked ten nations if they will assist in preparing a directive for General MacArthur on how to divide reparations from Japan.

Diplomatic officials disclosed tonight that the state department had advanced this proposal to the countries represented on the Far East commission after noting Russia's unwillingness to attend a conference devoted solely to reparations.

The American suggestion was that the nations on the commission, which include all the Big Five countries, "consult" with the American government in drawing up interim orders to General MacArthur for:

1. Immediate division among claimant countries of from 15 to 20 per cent of the Japanese assets selected for reparations.

2. Later determination of how the remaining 80 per cent should be allotted.

Officials familiar with the problem said that under the American plan, a directive would be drawn up after these suggested consultations and sent to General MacArthur for execution. It then would be submitted to the Far East commission for review.

Modern matchmakers charge a fee, usually 5 per cent of the bride's dowry.

Hannegan Blamed For Polls Beating

Kansas City, Nov. 7 (AP)—Rep. Roger C. Slaughter, the Democrat President Truman didn't want back in Congress, blamed Robert E. Hannegan today for his party's smarting defeat in Tuesday's election and then called upon the president to dismiss Hannegan from his cabinet as postmaster general.

Slaughter also called for Hannegan's resignation as both National Democratic chairman and National committeeman from Missouri.

The Democratic congressman from Missouri's fifth district also blasted at the Pendleton Democratic organization which brought about his primary defeat last August to Enos A. Axtell, who was beaten Tuesday by Republican Albert L. Reeves, Jr.

"In Jackson county the election served notice on certain interests that the day of bulldozing tactics are over," Slaughter's statement said. "This is a Democratic country and no Democrat who is the true choice of the party need have any trouble of election in this country."

Slaughter suggested a statewide Democratic meeting to reorganize under the leadership of Democratic Governor Phil M. Donnelly. He said "Hannegan and ruin have been synonymous in Democratic affairs in Missouri."

Republicans Annex 51 Senate Seats, 246 To Run House

By The Associated Press

Winners of contests for one House and two Senate seats remained uncertain last night (Thursday). Democrats held narrow leads in the unofficial returns.

It appeared that the official canvass might be required, however, to determine who won in the contests between:

Senator Harley J. Kilgore (D) and Thomas Sweeney (R) for senator from West Virginia.

Herbert O'Connor (D) and D. John Markey (R) in the Maryland senate race.

Rep. Walter K. Granger (D) and David J. Wilson (R) for the House seat from the First Utah district.

With these races still to be settled, the party line-ups in Congress stood:

Senate—Republicans 51, Democrats 43.

House—Republicans 246, Democrats 187, American-Labor one.

Expeditions Into Antarctic Planned, One By Navy Party

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—Two Antarctic expeditions, one by the navy and the other by private citizens are being planned, it was learned today.

Navy officials would say only that "a navy expedition will go to the Antarctic" and declined to give details now.

It was recalled, however, that some earlier expeditions had reported the presence of pitchblende which contains uranium, among minerals discovered in the Antarctic. Scientists have pointed out that the tremendously thick ice cap over much of the Antarctic continent would impose heavy difficulties in mining operations for any mineral.

Lansing Patrolman Held As Wife Killer

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 7 (AP)—Clayton Smith, former Lansing rookie patrolman, today was bound over to circuit court by municipal Judge Marvin J. Salmon on first degree murder charges in the Aug. 22 shooting of his wife, Roxanne.

At his lower court examination last month, Mary Anthony, 21-year-old sister of Mrs. Smith, testified that Smith had proposed marriage to her on two occasions before his wife's funeral.

The American suggestion was that the nations on the commission, which include all the Big Five countries, "consult" with the American government in drawing up interim orders to General MacArthur for:

1. Immediate division among claimant countries of from 15 to 20 per cent of the Japanese assets selected for reparations.

WHITE HOUSE SPURNS IDEA OF RESIGNING

should not be dignified by comment.

Persons close to the president, however, have been indignant, calling it an idea more suitable to the British parliamentary system than the American constitutional system of government.

Langius said the state building division would review the whole program to determine what projects may have to be delayed or halted in view of the drain on state finances by the return of one third of the sales tax to local government, and the $270,000,000 veteran's bonus.

If the program as outlined to meet the needs of educational institutions and mental hospitals is to go into effect, an additional $25,000,000 in funds will be necessary, Langius declared.

He said that state projects had been held up by shortages of labor and material—particularly of structural steel.

Tax Diversion And Bonus Cuts State's Emergency Building

Lansing, Nov. 7 (AP)—Construction on the state's post-war emergency building program is already three months behind schedule and will probably be delayed further by the expected reduction in appropriations, A. N. Langius, state building director, said today.

Langius said the state building division would review the whole program to determine what projects may have to be delayed or halted in view of the drain on state finances by the return of one third of the sales tax to local government, and the $270,000,000 veteran's bonus.

OPA and Paint Prices

IN A hasty effort to beat the election deadline, the OPA has moved within the past several weeks to decontrol a substantial percentage of commodities that were under price regulation for the past several years.

The remaining items still under price control may as well be removed from the list pronto because, of course, it is impossible to hold the line on some commodities while others are freed.

Take the case of paint, for instance. Monday the OPA announced substantial increases in ceilings on the price of paint. The action was necessary in view of the sharp rise of linseed oil. If linseed oil or other ingredients in paint rise further it naturally follows that corresponding increases in the cost of paint will be necessary. We don't need OPA to figure that one out. In the final analysis, consumer resistance will have to regulate the price anyway. Nothing that OPA can do will tend to hold the price down because if OPA attempts to do that, the production of paint will diminish and eventually it will be halted entirely.

The point we're trying to make is simply that OPA today merely acts as a medium to rubber stamp price increases and cannot be effective at all in keeping prices down. Why pay the expense of maintaining a bureaucracy of this kind that is utterly useless to our economic life? Actually the agency probably is more instrumental in raising prices than it is in holding a price line.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

New York—"Our only restraint is our own self-restraint."

Those words were written by a great American, the late Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone, who also happened to be a Republican. Justice Stone was addressing in one of his famous dissents the stubborn conservative majority on the supreme court.

That majority, in Stone's interpretation, thwarted the intentions of Congress in rejecting law after law as unconstitutional. They based their decisions not so much on the law as on their own economic predilections. They were out to block the New Deal.

Open warfare between the court and the president followed. The divided powers of government seemed to make stalemate inevitable. That has happened again and again under our constitutional system. This is written on election night. It is too early to say whether the Republican sweep will measure up to the sanguine claims made by the GOP campaign managers. But at this moment there seems little doubt that the "Ins" are on the way out, carried on one of those almost irresistible tides that seem to govern American politics.

DEWEY FOR PRESIDENCY

For the Republicans, as they begin to assume power, this should be a sobering moment. Stone's words about restraint should be written up in neon lights on the capitol dome. Only by the exercise of the greatest self-restraint will our system of divided powers work during the next two crucial years.

The New York Times news bulletin says that Governor Thomas E. Dewey's majority for re-election will be 650,000 or more. That means he is a formidable contender for the Republican presidential nomination in 1948, even though he is a defeated candidate and the party has never re-nominated a man once defeated.

It means that the jealousies and rivalries within the GOP will be multiplied and intensified. The Republican party is no harmonious army of the right marching on to ultimate victory. It is almost as torn by factionalism as the Democratic party.

First, there are the rivalries for place and power. The years of waiting have been lean. The prize in 1948 is a rich one. While Senator Robert A. Taft is far out ahead in organization strength and in delegates already nailed down, this does not mean that the other contenders will give way.

Rivalries are keen on a lower level. If, as now seems certain, the Republicans control the House, there will be a bitter contest for the offices that go with control.

Representative Clarence Brown of Ohio and Representative Charles Hallock of Indiana are both zealous contenders for the office of majority leader.

Besides the personal rivalries there are profound differences of belief within the party. Liberal-Progressives such as Senator Morse of Oregon, Senator Aiken and his newly elected colleague, Senator Ralph Flanders of Vermont, Senator Tobey of New Hampshire and others cannot be ignored by the ultra-conservatives and reactionaries who will claim the victory as theirs.

TEDDY ROOSEVELT REMEMBERED

The reactionaries are certain to be challenged within their own party, and vigorously. The liberal-progressives remember that the Republican party has other roots than those that connect with big business. They remember Theodore Roosevelt and the men he attracted to his banner; such men as the late Gifford Pinchot, who helped to pioneer the whole conservation movement.

The flush of victory these differences will be submerged. When Franklin Roosevelt came into office after 12 years of Republicans rule, the Democratic party gave a remarkable imitation of harmony. It lasted nearly four years.

The immediate danger is that the little men with little minds who have waited for this opportunity will take over. They have been re-elected time after time in orthodox Republican districts and now the escalator of seniority has brought them to the top.

If these men throw all caution to the winds in the flush of victory, if their motive is revenge, if their only objective is to push the block back, then we shall be in for serious trouble. Such arrogance and such needlessness might even jeopardize the bright hopes of the party for 1948.

That same escalator carried Southern Democrats to the top during the Republican twenties. They blocked measure after measure that the New Deal administration sponsored. They are one reason the party is so badly split today.

One thing certainly is true. The opportunity for positive leadership was never greater. But if you judge from the kind of campaign they put on, it is hard to see how such leadership can come from the Republican party.

The reaction to the election here in New York somehow typified the whole campaign. There were a few apathetic strollers in Times Square that even the breathless radio could not exaggerate into a crowd. In a mood of discontent and distrust, America went to the polls.

wh-words. Radio's good example in this respect will, I believe, check the American tendency to drop the "h." Therefore, I advise those of you who follow my recommendations to give an unmistakable "hw" sound to all the familiar words.

Note. For some undisclosed reason, the "w" is never sounded before who, whole, whoop, and their derivatives. Of the three, "who" is the most curious: it began as "hwa," changed into "wha," and finally became "who" with the amazing pronunciation "hweat."

English is like that.

For the Sake of the Little Woman and Children

Amendments Adopted

BY MARGINS so decisive that they left no room at all for doubt of the public's viewpoint, voters of Michigan Tuesday adopted all three proposed amendments to the state constitution, each of which in one way or another affects public expenditures.

The first proposed authorizes state and municipal governmental units to spend funds for the improvement and development of airports. The second proposal diverts one cent of the three cent sales tax to schools and local units of government, at the same time requiring an equal percentage of state school aid from the general fund as has been disbursed in the past.

The third proposal authorizes a state soldiers' bonus up to a maximum of $500 for each Michigan war veteran.

The thumping approval given all three amendments is somewhat a reverse of the normal trend in the voting on constitutional amendments affecting state financing and taxation.

Sen. George Girrbach reported Wednesday that the diversion of sales tax money to the schools and municipalities will ease the pressure on the state legislature. This view, of course, has not been shared by all legislators, many of whom fear that the state will have to seek new sources of revenue even without considering the effect of the third proposal.

Of three amendments adopted by the voters, the third, requiring a bond issue to the amount of $720,000,000, to meet the cost of the soldiers' bonus, may prove the most troublesome from a financial viewpoint. There has been nothing revealed yet how the bonus payment is to be met. It will be one of the sticklers for the state and administration that meets in January and its solution will almost certainly result in the adoption of new taxes.

Local Industry Expands

PERHAPS the Daily Press has been devoting more space to new industrial projects in its editorial columns than seems necessary to some readers. We cannot refrain, however, from commenting upon the development of another home-grown industry, the Hiawatha Manufacturing company, which now has about thirty employees and plans to double its employment in the near future.

The enterprising owners of this industry made their start without much fanfare. They have branched out in the manufacture of a variety of wood products and also have developed markets for these items. The very diversity of their line is certain to give stability to the industry, for its operators have demonstrated they are not without ideas and initiative. In time, they may be employing more workers than were on the payroll of the Delta Chemical & Iron company, whose buildings the Hiawatha company now occupies.

We are now manufacturing many new wood products in Delta county and the rest of the Upper Peninsula. Although these making of these items calls for the consumption of a relatively small amount of wood, the employment ratio is exceedingly high. We are getting many more jobs per 1,000 feet than if our trees were cut into logs and lumber and shipped to some other state. We are manufacturing the end product right here in the Upper Peninsula and thereby providing greater utilization and employment in the communities where the forests are being cut.

This is an encouraging trend in our postwar industrial development. It should be extended to every community in the Upper Peninsula.

Just A Suggestion

THE Chicago Sun's suggestion that President Roosevelt appoint a secretary of state, recommended by Republican members of Congress, and then resign in his favor, has some merit but, of course, nothing will ever come of it.

President Truman has been unable to achieve his legislative objectives with a Democratic majority in the Congress. After the first of the year, the Republicans will be in control of both houses, and so the chief executive then will be in a worse dilemma than ever. He will be placed in the same predicament President Woodrow Wilson found himself in during the closing months of his administration.

President Truman and his Democratic administration were repudiated by the American people at the polls on Tuesday. Is some of the European systems of government, the administration resigns when it fails to receive a vote of confidence. It is a system that has some merit.

It is a certainty that the Republican-controlled Congress will be at loggerheads with the Democratic administration during the coming two years. The only result of such bickering will be that the country will be the loser.

However, it is a foregone conclusion that President Truman will tough it out until his present term expires. The Democratic party could not be expected to surrender the presidency any more than the Republicans would have been willing to take this step during the critical depression years when President Hoover was at the helm.

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby

WH-WORDS

Q. Won't you please discuss the prevalent bad habit of pronouncing such words as what, when, which, etc., as "wot, wen, wotch"?—T. G. P.

Answer: First a little history. Nearly all wh-words in English are of Anglo-Saxon spelling was hw- and not wh-, wheel, for example, was originally spelled "hweol," what was spelled "hwæt," when was spelled "hwæmenne," etc.

It is not quite clear why the "h" and "w" became transposed in Modern English spelling, for, when the "h" is pronounced in words like wheel, it comes before and not after the "w," as hweel.

The dictionaries show the pronunciation of the wh-words with the "h" before the "w," thus: hwen, hwat, hwy, hwarf, hweat, etc. But in their pronunciation sections the dictionaries observe that many Americans omit the "h" sound, saying "wen, wy, warf, weat."

Dropping the "h" sound is customary in Southern England, and appears to be on the increase in the United States.

Even so, American speech teachers, radio and dramatic schools, and teachers of voice do not regard the dropped "h" as good usage, and require their students to say hweel, instead of "weel," hwen, instead of "wen," hwy, instead of "wy," etc.

Moreover, my recently finished four-year radio check reveals that competent American broadcasters, with few exceptions, sound the "h" plainly before all the very often bills are introduced and passed by men who are conversant with the fish business more in theory than in fact.

THEORY—The point is that very often bills are introduced, I believe, check the American tendency to drop the "h." Therefore, I advise those of you who follow my recommendations to give an unmistakable "hw" sound to all the familiar words.

English is like that.

UNINTERESTED—No. Right now the fisheries situation is balled up enough by state bungling without dragging Canada into it. To date there has been nothing to show that Canada is interested in conservation. Their attitude as I see it was always to get the dollar, to hell with the fish.

A soft answer may turneth away wrath—but not if it's "Guess who's calling?"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—Elections are just a little like wars. After they are over we ought to sit down and take stock of things and see how we can improve the country. I am not at all sure that we have done enough stock-taking lately. Perhaps a lot of us have taken our country too much for granted.

But the boys were out fighting for their country have been doing a lot of thinking. When you're sitting out in foxholes or lying in a hospital tent, you have to think; and sometimes I wonder if it wouldn't be a good thing if our more extreme politicians, capitalists and labor leaders were put in just such a position—so they could do more thinking, too.

Along this line, I received a letter the other day from a young Marine, John McCulloch of Wooster, Ohio, which struck me as so good that I am going to publish part of it.

"You see," writes John McCulloch, "I never realized before I received my discharge from the Marines what a hell of a condition our country is in today. Of course, I ran up against some pretty disgusting examples while in the service, but I thought our government could handle the situation in due time.

"Since I have returned to the states, it is hard for me to comprehend how messed up the situation has become. It isn't necessarily the strikes, black markets, etc., that worry me. But what does worry me is the fact that our government doesn't seem able to cope with the problems.

"Today the word politics is synonymous with graft. People speak the word with disgust, and usually mistrust the men associated with it. Actually, we should be very proud of politics and respect the men connected with it.

WHO'S FAULT IS IT?

"For weeks now I have been pondering and worrying about this dilemma, trying to figure out whose fault it is, and the solution. I have now discovered whose fault it is and that the solution is comparatively simple.

"It is my fault and millions like me. People today are criticizing our whole political set-up and blaming just about everything on President Truman. And yet these people themselves don't do a darn thing about it. They just sit back and complain."

It seems to me that ex-Marine John McCulloch in his simple, direct way, hit the nail right on the head. I, myself, in this column, have done my share of complaining. I have thrown the spotlight on a lot of politicians, including President Truman—and deservedly so.

However, it is also important to remember that we have just passed through a five-year period of stirring up millions of people to kill each other, and it's bound to be tough undoing all this hatred. Furthermore, the job of beating our swords back into plowshares is sometimes tougher than forging the weapons of battle. It's especially tough when everyone drops his tools, doffs his uniform, lays aside his patriotic motives, and expects things to get back to the good old days—without his help.

DON'T BLAME WASHINGTON

As I sit in Washington, watching the ebb and flow of politics and politicians, I find two things depressing. One is the tendency, so eloquently noted by John McCulloch, to blame everything on Washington. The other is the failure of Washington to attract good men.

Even with the best men in the world, however, Washington can't solve all the nation's problems. A lot of those problems come from a factory owner wanting too much profit or a labor union getting too high-handed; or from the fact that all of us have let down a little since the war and are thinking too much about the almighty dollar, rather than about our neighbor whose son was missing in action—and the whole community, at that time, tried to be thoughtful and neighborly. But

SKATING RINK PLANS READY

Speed Track Planned At Ludington Park Next Winter

The ice lagoon that Escanaba skaters sought for this winter at Ludington park will not be realized because of the tremendous amount of work and the sizeable outlay of money that such a project would entail. However, a six lap skating track will be constructed near the shore at Ludington park and a hockey rink also will be built there.

The six lap track will be the site of the Bay de Noc speed skating open next winter. Much of the preliminary work has already been completed by city crews and preparations are advanced sufficiently to guarantee the completion of the rink as soon as freezing weather arrives.

Ice skating rinks also are planned at Royce Park and the Webster playground, as well as at the fairgrounds exhibition building, where the indoor rink will be constructed again. There may be a neighborhood rink at the junior high school playground, but no definite decision has been made on this by the recreation department. There will be no neighborhood rink at Triangle Park however.

The Ludington Park speed skating rink will be six laps to a mile and the fee sheet will cover only the track. Snow will be scraped to the middle of the layout.

Wisconsin Plan For Parochial Busses Rejected By Voters

Milwaukee — (AP) — Wisconsin voters have decided that there shall be no change in the state constitution to permit transportation of children to parochial or private schools in public buses.

The proposal was defeated by a margin in excess of 100,000, on the basis of incomplete returns from 2,483 of the state's 3,147 precincts. The total at that stage was: For the change 315,351 against it 415,703.

The referendum had been passed by two sessions of the legislature before it was placed on the ballot. It provided that if the voters approved the legislature could pass a law to provide transportation for children to all schools.

ORDER VFW TO PAY $300 FINE

Elks Club Is Found Not Guilty Of Keeping Slot Machines

The Michigan liquor control commission has found the VFW club, 1305 Ludington, Escanaba guilty of possessing slot machines in a licensed establishment and ordered it to pay a fine of $300 before Nov. 18 or have its license suspended for 60 days.

In the case of the Elks club, 510 Ludington, Escanaba, the commission reported it had been "found not guilty as charged and that the case be dismissed."

The liquor commission conducted hearings on both cases in Escanaba Oct. 2 and 3, and took them under advisement. Walter M. Noack, director of the licensing and enforcement division of the commission, informed the licensees of the decisions by letter, with copies to Escanaba Police Chief M. F. Ettenhofer.

Escanaba police raided the two licensed clubs July 2 and confiscated 8 slot machines found in the Elks club building, and 4 in the VFW (Veterans of Foreign Wars) club.

At the VFW club the machines were found by the police in a small booth located in the bar room. At the Elks club the slot machines were found in a back room off the kitchen. The police chief said the machines will be disposed of according to law.

Milwaukeeans Favor Use Of Natural Gas

Milwaukee — (AP) — Milwaukee voters approved introduction of natural gas by a slim margin in an advisory referendum Tuesday while a similar proposal was defeated by nine votes in suburban Cudahy.

The question in each case asked whether the city council should act to obtain natural gas, provided that the Milwaukee Gas Light Co. would pay for the adjustment of appliances and maintain its present manufacturing and storage facilities for emergencies.

Milwaukeeans favored the proposal, which was advisory and not binding on the council, by a vote of 31,016 to 28,953, while the Cudahy vote was 1,327 to 1,318 against the measure.

Jensen In 1-Vote Lead; Recount Gladstone No. 4

Official figures are expected today which will show the outcome of the election race for Delta County representative in the state legislature, following a recount of the ballots cast in Gladstone Precinct 4.

Roy A. Jensen, Escanaba, Republican candidate for representative, had his lead cut from 3 to 1 vote yesterday when Mrs. Violet Patterson, his Democratic opponent, gained two votes in Gladstone Precinct 3. The official tally in that precinct showed 233 votes for Patterson rather than the unofficially reported 231.

The county board of canvassers yesterday called upon the election inspector of Gladstone Precinct 4 for a recount of the ballots cast in that precinct after a discrepancy was found in the totals reported in the tally books.

There were slightly under 400 votes cast in that precinct, but the combined totals for the various precincts were 1,000.

The board of canvassers, composed of John Wolf, Escanaba,

GRANGE SONG LEADER QUIT

Mrs. Dora Stockman Is Retiring After Long Service

Lansing—The Michigan State Grange has lost the services of the woman who taught it how to sing and sing joyously. Mrs. Dora H. Stockman of East Lansing, a candidates would indicate a vote between 420 and 430. It is not known where the error lies and the recount of ballots is necessary.

The error may have occurred in tabulating the votes by adding too many straights to the splits.

Whatever the cause of the error,

it may effect the previously reported totals not only in the race for representative but also the other candidates on the ballot.

The board of canvassers said the variation in votes could reach a total of 39.

The corrected vote, which must remain unofficial until the result of the recount in Gladstone Precinct 4 is known, is as follows for the office of representative:

Jensen—4,789

Patterson—4,788

There were no other close contests in the county which the recount can upset the already announced results.

The board of canvassers, composed of John Wolf, Escanaba,

Grange worker for more than a half century, has decided to retire as the organization's director of public relations.

"It's time to take a rest," Mrs. Stockman confided to friends at the Grange's recent state convention when she announced her resignation.

Mrs. Stockman also has served as State Grange deputy, traveling over the state organizing new subordinate chapters. She has the distinction of having organized more Granges than any other Michigan member of the organization.

She has attributed her success in this work to her ability to get people to sing. When the Grangers would get to wrangling among themselves, she would suggest: "Let's sing."

After singing a song or two, factional and personal differences often were forgotten or ceased to cause friction.

Mrs. Stockman was quick to observe this power of song and she was instrumental in interesting R. E. Olds of Lansing in providing the Grange with $3,000 worth of song books and in underwriting the organization's song festival.

The retiring farm leader has written many songs and composed the music. She also has written many poems.

Mrs. Stockman plans to spend the winter in Florida, returning to Michigan next spring.

Nylon's versatility is depicted with fabrics in velvet, taffeta, satin, marquisette, lace and even fringe.

WILL OBSERVE ARMISTICE DAY

Legion To Hold Parade
And Dance On Monday

Members of the American Legion will commemorate the heroes of World War I and II on Armistice day Monday, Nov. 11 by parading in full uniform with an accompanying color guard from the American Legion club room. They will march to 11th and Ludington street where they will fire a volley of three shots and observe three minutes of silent prayer.

The commander of the VFW, E. J. Kallio, has announced that the VFW will co-operate with the Legion in their plans and the city will decorate Ludington street for the occasion. Stores will remain open all day.

The American Legion will sponsor a dance which will take place in the evening. It will be held at the Coliseum where Ivan Kobasic's orchestra will furnish the music. Elmer Olson is chairman of the dance committee and is assisted by John Pellow and Lester Kenny. The dance will start at 9:30 p.m. and the ticket sales indicate a large attendance.

Menominee Voters Approve Theater Sale To Cammack

Menominee—By vote of nearly 2 to 1, Menominee voters Tuesday approved sale of municipality-owned Menominee Theater to M. E. Cammack for $15,000. The vote was 2,073 for the sale to 1,133 against. The ballot was purely advisory in character and not legally binding on city council but the sale is now regarded as a foregone conclusion.

Cammack leased the theater for a motion picture house a year ago. Under the terms of his lease, he paid the city $50 a month rent and had an option to purchase with no price stipulated. Early last summer he offered the city $22,000 for the building and listed another $5,400 which he said he had invested in the building in permanent improvements.

City council rejected the offer and later Cammack followed up his original offer with an offer of $15,000. In the meantime council named a committee of five Menominee business men to make an appraisal of the property. This committee fixed its value at $50,000. Council then ordered an advisory vote on the proposal in yesterday's election.

Cammack said if the sale was approved he would invest several thousand dollars in further improvements, including installing new seats and rebuilding the floors. He said he hesitated to do so before because he did not own the building.

Marquette Voters Join Swing To GOP

Marquette, Mich.—With the exception of two county offices—prosecuting attorney and register of deeds—Marquette county voters jumped on the Republican victory ship in a big way in Tuesday's election.

On a poll of approximately 17,500 votes, probably the largest ever recorded in an off-year election, Republican candidates piled up majorities of from over 4,000 credited to U. S. Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, down to 700 polled by Vining L. Bjork, Ishpeming, Republican winner for county treasurer over Martha Salo Warner, Democratic incumbent.

Albert Hooper, Ishpeming, GOP candidate for prosecutor, lost by a margin of only 177 votes to John D. Voelker, Ishpeming, re-elected on the Democratic slate. The other Democratic winner was Mrs. Fannie Aartila, incumbent register of deeds, who defeated Mrs. Othie Brennan, Republican nominee, by 1,434.

Armstrong, Ryan, Taylor Win Easily In Chippewa County

Sault Ste. Marie—Chippewa County Republican officers, including a new sheriff, made a clean sweep of Tuesday's election.

Although returns were incomplete, the incumbent officers and new sheriff, Jack Armstrong, had sufficient lead from those polling places reporting to be assured of election.

Twenty of the 26 precincts in Chippewa county gave 4,023 votes to Jack Armstrong, to 1,842 for his Democratic opponent, Fred McDonald. Similarly Sam C. Taylor, incumbent Republican clerk, polled 3,918 votes to 1,996 votes for James J. Kerwin, his opponent on the Democratic ticket.

Herbert C. Ryan, Republican incumbent treasurer, received 3,917 votes to 1,848 cast for LaJoy Barber, his opponent on the Democratic ticket. Mabel J. Scales, incumbent Republican register of deeds, received 3,958 votes to 1,911 cast for Charles J. John, her Democratic opponent.

McCauley's recent campaign was centered on his prosecution of the Milwaukee county hospital investigation last winter, and he promised, if re-elected, to seek legislation which would end the "dynastic control" of the county institution.

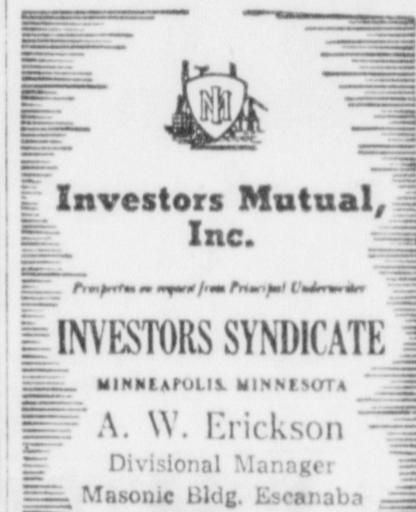

Both Mr. and Mrs. McCauley and their daughters, Monica and Mary, are well-known here.

O. E. S. Installation
New officers will be installed at a special meeting of the O. E. S. chapter, No. 49, O. E. S. The open installation ceremonies will be held at the Masonic Temple at 6 o'clock. All Eastern Stars, Masons, and their friends are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Miss Marenger Honored
More than 200 guests attended a shower at the Flat Rock Hall on Oct. 29, honoring Miss Pearl Marenger, bride-to-be. Her marriage to Herman Bittner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Bittner of Cornell, will take place on Nov. 16. The bridegroom is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Marenger, also of Cornell. Cards and games were played during the evening, and refreshments were served by the hostesses, who were Mrs. Ed Marenger, Miss Pearl Marenger, Miss Mildred Groos, and Miss Lorraine Bittner. The guest of honor received many attractive gifts.

Rebekah Lodge Meeting
Phoebe Rebekah Lodge No. 179 will hold a regular meeting this evening at the I. O. O. F. hall, North 10th Street beginning at 8 o'clock. The social hour following the business session will be in charge of Miss Hazel Brown as chairman, assisted by Misses Esther Anderson, Alice McMartin, Lura Brown, Mrs. Nancy Petry and Mrs. Edith Pearson. A large dinner is desired.

Exchange Vows

A colorful autumn wedding held recently at the Immanuel Lutheran church united in marriage Miss Elsie Arntzen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gothard Arntzen, 820 South 16th street, and Roger Carlson, son of Mrs. John Carlson, 1200 First avenue north.

"Til the End of Time" and "I Love You Truly" were played by Chet Merrier as Rev. L. R. Lund performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with a profusion of beautiful autumn flowers.

The bride chose a blue wool dress with brown accessories and carried a bridal bouquet of red roses and white chrysanthemums. Mrs. Lyle Booth, matron of honor, wore teal blue dress with black accessories and a bouquet of pink roses and white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Arntzen selected an ensemble of green and black and wore a corsage of baby white chrysanthemums. The bridegroom's mother chose black with white accessories and a corsage of white gardenias.

Howard McKie performed the duties of best man.

Male Quartette
To Open Series
Saturday Night

A challenge will be offered Saturday evening to those citizens of Escanaba who profess to be music lovers and critics.

When the Philharmonic Male Quartette opens the Escanaba Town Hall Series 1946-1947 at the William Oliver Memorial auditorium Saturday, it will offer music which should stimulate the best musical impulses of both the music connoisseur and the passive listener. The concert music will be a mixture of classical and popular selections combining to form a program appealing and pleasing to all. The presentation will offer people good music in the fashion they like.

The Philharmonic Male Quartette, which is widely known for its variety and versatility of its artists, will bring with them its accompanist, Margo Smith.

As an added attraction, they will also bring with them a young soprano, Annette Olsen, who will be a featured soloist. Miss Olsen has recently been featured on WGN and is rapidly rising ladder of stardom.

The quartette is known for its blending and shading of tonal quality along with the greatest degree of balance. The members have a unique way of performing which endears them to the audience as they appear to enjoy the program along with the listeners.

STATES ELECT GOP GOVERNORS

Tuesday Victories Give Majority Of Two In Capitals

By the Associated Press

Twenty Republican gubernatorial victories in Tuesday's balloting gave the party a majority of two in the nation's statehouses and furnished Thomas E. Dewey, who won reelection by a huge majority in New York, with a strong role in the forthcoming presidential deliberations.

The Republicans captured governorships in Ohio, Massachusetts and Idaho which Democrats had held but lost in Colorado for a net increase of two over their previous holdings.

The governors were split before the election 25 for the Democrats and 23 for the Republicans. Thus Tuesday's voting reversed the party roles to give the Republicans an edge in the statehouses as well as in the senate and house.

Republican victories were scored in California, Connecticut, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Vermont and Wisconsin.

Democrats retained control in Rhode Island, Wyoming, Maryland, Tennessee, Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, South Carolina, Texas, Arizona, Oklahoma and Nevada, won a Republican seat in Colorado, and their candidate was substantially ahead in New Mexico.

In the New York race, watched with interest because of its presidential overtones, Dewey piled up a thumping lead of more than 600,000 votes over his Democratic opponent Senator James M. Mead.

The count from 9,422 of the state's 9,534 election districts gave Dewey 2,791,045; Mead 2,128,538.

Voters of Ohio, another key state, chose Republican Thomas J. Herbert by a narrow margin over Frank J. Lausche, the Democratic incumbent. Returns from 9,054 of 9,352 precincts showed Herbert 1,228,531; Lausche 1,083,799.

Massachusetts ousted its Democratic governor, Maurice J. Tobin, in favor of Republican Robert F. Bradford, and Idaho named Dr. C. A. Robins, Republican, over Gov. Arnold E. Williams, Democrat.

Colorado, running contrary to the national trend, selected William Lee Knous, a Democrat, over Republican Leon E. Lavington.

Train Junior Or Leave Him Home

BY RUTH MILLETT

In commenting on my recent suggestion that we might try taking the kids along occasionally when we are invited out—instead of being eternally dependent on baby-sitters—a mother suggests we might first have to change our ideas of how to bring up Junior.

It seems this mother remembers some bad evenings when parents brought their small-fry along, and the small-fry proceeded to wreck the house and turn what should have been a sociable evening into a nightmare.

Probably the mother has something there. It may be no mere coincidence that the custom of hiring baby-sitters for the kids became widespread about the time parents began to bring their kids up by the "let-em-express-themselves" school of child psychology.

Let Junior express himself all over the house and pretty soon even the fondest parents take to sneaking off from him for their fun—leaving a baby-sitter to cope with his self-expressionness.

Simply ignore Junior's tantrums and destructiveness at home and Junior isn't an especially appealing or charming guest to take along to a friend's house.

Psychology Is Costly

A hostess understandably seethes inside when Junior's mother lets him jump up and down on the divan while she waits for one rule after another—gleaned from textbooks—to take effect.

A divan can get mighty rumpled and dirty while Junior goes right on jumping through the "ignore-him; he-only-wants-attention" routine, the "get-him-interested-in-something-else" method, and so on.

So if we are going to take Junior along and make social life a family, rather than always a strictly adult affair—we may first have to turn Junior into a more acceptable guest.

About 630,000 one-hundred-pound barrels of cranberries worth from $8,000,000 to $16,000,000 are produced annually in the United States.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often
Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking care of the body and waste out of the blood. They help most people to feel good all day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, finding it hard to get around, eye strain, eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with the bladder or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out your poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

MACHINERY ARRIVES

Ispenning—Construction of the Robbins Flooring Mill company's plant is proceeding "very well," Henry Ulmen, engineer in charge for the Edward H. Meyer Construction company, reported today.

At present, he said, sufficient quantities of materials are on hand to permit rapid progress. The only serious shortage now is in windows for the mill building. Ulmen expects to have this enclosed by the end of this week, with the exception of windows, which will comprise the upper third of the north and south walls. Only a small section on the west end of the building has to be completed, and workmen are putting up the last roof trusses and forms for the foundation wall.

How To Relieve Bronchitis

Creamulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germs laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and relax the inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creamulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly relieves the cough or you are to have your money back.

City May Buy Coliseum And Lease To Glove Co.

Although still in a stage of negotiation, the Escanaba city council is preparing to purchase the Coliseum building at First avenue south and Fourth street and lease it to a glove manufacturing company, according to city council action taken last night.

The council authorized the mayor and clerk to enter into a land contract with Richard Flath, owner of the Coliseum, for the purchase of the building at a cost of $15,500 plus 4 per cent interest.

The building would be paid for by the city over a 10-year period.

In connection with other industrial development in the city, the council accepted the $225 bid of Richard Nelson for the sale of 1.7 acres of city-owned land to Nelson, who plans to locate a portable sawmill and warehouse on the property. The land is located northwest of the site of the state fair grounds.

The glove company, which was not further identified, has not yet entered into a lease with the city for use of the building, and last night's action of the council was preparatory. It is understood the company wants to begin operations here as soon as possible. The company has proposed to the council a lease in which it will pay the city $2,500 a year for the first five years, and $2,000 per year for the next five years, which would repay the city for its cost in purchasing and remodeling the building.

In addition the council authorized the city manager to have necessary remodeling made to the building so that it will be suitable for use by the light industry which will lease the building from the city. Cost of the remodeling was estimated by the manager to be about $4,500.

The request of the North Western railroad for additional working space adjacent to its yards on Third avenue north between North 10th and North 14th street was considered, and the council will offer a 25-year lease for 15 feet of city property for $10 per year. The 15 feet will not narrow the existing street width.

Newspapers Late; Detroit Printers In Labor Dispute

Detroit, Nov. 7 (AP)—Detroit afternoon newspapers reached readers several hours behind schedule today as a labor dispute at the Detroit Times resulted in edition delays at that paper and the Detroit

News. It marked the third time this week that regular editions of the city's newspapers were affected by labor trouble, as the Detroit Free Press — Detroit's only morning paper — missed all its election night editions.

The tieups followed several bargaining sessions between the newspaper managements and the International Typographical union (AFL) and reliable sources said the printers had turned down an offer of a 12 percent wage increase and were holding out for 20 percent, equivalent to about $13.68 weekly.

Management spokesmen declined comment on the contract terms under discussion.

The volleyball league will begin Monday at 7:30 o'clock at the junior high school gym, with Don McKie conducting the program. The badminton program is held at the senior high school gymnasium, also on Mondays.

The formal opening of the recreation center located in the fairgrounds exhibition building is scheduled for Monday night, with Jerome Deloria in charge.

The increase in present high cost Omar N. Bradley, VA, testified before congressional committee that pensions should be increased and the Economy Act slashed veterans what was going on.

Bradley law corrects which has been in the 1933 Economy Act to now, veterans who VA hospital lost their service-compensations and all non-service-compensations. It provides that for the first six months of hospitalization the veteran who is getting a pension will keep on getting the full amount. After six months his pension check will be cut to 50 per cent, or $30, whichever is greater. The difference will be kept by VA and paid in a lump sum when the veteran is discharged from the hospital.

ALGER POTATO GROWERS WIN

Two County Men Take Prizes In Recent U. P. Show

Munising—Two Alger county farmers won outstanding recognition in the U. P. Potato show held at Iron River last week. They are; Emil Verbrugge of Eben Junction and Kalle Waananen of Kiva.

Mr. Verbrugge won sixth place in the U. P. Certified Seed Potato Growers Contest. His yield on 12 acres of certified seed was 519 bushel per acre. In addition to the 12 acres of certified seed Emil Verbrugge also raised 40 acres of tablestock which yielded in excess of 400 bushel per acre.

Mr. Waananen's first attempt at picking out a sample to exhibit at the U. P. State Potato show brought him first prize in the Chippewa variety for the bushel of certified Chippewa potatoes displayed. Mr. Waananen grew eight acres of the seed potatoes which yielded 448 bushel per acre. He selected a bushel and a peck sample of uniform true type potatoes from his field to exhibit at the show. He took first place in both the bushel and peck sample divisions of that certified seed potato display in the show. In addition to the eight acres of certified Chippewa potatoes, Mr. Waananen also grew 17 acres of Sebago and Russet Rural potatoes for tablestock purposes.

The certified seed which was grown by Waananen and Verbrugge will be sold for seed next spring to other growers in the state as well as neighboring states, J. L. Heiman, county agricultural agent said.

Red Cross Prepares For Third World War

By CLARKE BEACH
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Washington—The Red Cross is laying long-range plans to take care of the prisoners of World War III, just in case the current efforts to end war are not successful.

Relieving the sufferers of disaster is their business, the Red Cross people believe, and they must be prepared, no matter how remote nor terrible the disaster may be. Even the possibility of atomic war must be considered.

The groundwork is now being laid for a new international agreement regarding the treatment of war prisoners.

Representatives of the International Red Cross Committee, which handles relief supplies for prisoners, usually went along on the camp visits.

The American Red Cross shipped to the International Committee for distribution to prisoners 27,000,000 packages of food, toilet articles, books, etc. The Germans, says State, gave military priority to transportation for all such packages, just as the United States did.

Powerful Pendergast Machine At Low Ebb

Kansas City, (AP) — The once powerful Pendergast Democratic organization—President Truman is its most prominent dues-paying member—tonight was at the lowest ebb of its political fortunes in years.

Only yesterday morning its precinct and ward workers were making big political talk. The organization under the leadership of James M. Pendergast, nephew of the late T. J. (Boss) Pendergast, was on its way back, they claimed. That was before the general election blow in the president's home county had fallen.

The results of Tuesday's election are clear and significant:

The Republicans, with the aid of Anti-Pendergast Democrats and independent voters, had defeated Mr. Truman's personal candidate, Enox Axtell, for congress in Missouri's fifth district—a district right next door to the president's.

Too, the Republicans had wrested six of the 11 Jackson county seats in the Missouri Legislature. And to cap their election triumph, they had cracked Pendergast control of the courthouse by electing the prosecutor and presiding judge of the county court.

While the Jackson county Democrats did deliver U. S. Senator Frank R. Briggs of Macon, ticket leader, a 3,000 majority it was not enough to ease the blow. Nor was it enough to save Briggs from the majority piled up elsewhere in the state by his Republican opponent, white-haired James P. Kem of Kansas City.

ENTERTAIN AT ANNUAL PARTY

Gladstone Members Hold Lunch, Program For K-C Council

About 150 members of Escanaba Council No. 640, Knights of Columbus, were entertained at an annual party given by Gladstone members of the council Tuesday evening at All Saints' parish hall. A short business meeting preceded an excellent lunch served by Gladstone members. Music during the lunch was played by Joe Gasperich and John Lake and many of the group indulged in a bit of barber shop harmony.

The program included a welcome by Rev. Fr. Joseph Schauel; selections on a musical saw by Wallace Cameron accompanied by Al Bouchard on the guitar; a skit entitled "The Gathering of the Nuts" directed by Wallace Cameron, stories by Pete LeClaire, Louis Gabriel and Wallace Cameron, and a motion picture comedy.

Guests at the party were Francis Roy, Andy Moore, Clyde Alwarden, Lee Alwarden, Leslie Davis, Stanley Petrovich, Joe Gasperich, Al Brusoe, Al Creten and L. J. Cannon.

Carl Schenk served as general chairman. Heading the lunch committee was Lloyd Morgan and Roy LaCosse headed the program committee. All members from Gladstone assisted the chairmen.

THERE'S HAM IN SURINAM

Local Radio Amateur Contacts South American

In case you ever run across the name of a country called Surinam, don't start scanning maps of the Eastern hemisphere for it happens to be the new name for Dutch Guinea on the northeast coast of South America.

The same day he "talked" with the South American in Surinam, Rousseau also exchanged messages with operators in Puerto Rico and Newfoundland. Previously he has contacted operators in France and Argentina. Conditions have to be right to reach out that far though, Rousseau declares.

Asked if he had any language difficulties, Rousseau said not as yet for the men contacted are using an international code which has abbreviations for words. Weather, type of equipment used, power of sets and other subjects which interest the "hams" are usually the chief topics of the exchange.

However, Rousseau may yet have language difficulties when he "raises" a foreign operator for he is planning a voice set at the present time.

Messiah Chorus
Have Now Arrived

Mrs. James Fyvie, director of the Messiah chorus, announces that the second order of music books has arrived and that those who have placed their orders for them may have them by calling at her home at 210 Range street.

A third order has also been placed and should arrive here in a few days.

The chorus, Mrs. Fyvie reports, is making splendid progress and did impressive justice to the "Hallelujah" chorus at last Monday evening's meeting. The chorus practices each Monday evening at the music room of the school. It will before long transfer its practices to the school auditorium.

Leonard Multhaupt, in charge of the Schoolcraft County Veterans' Council, is calling attention to the fact that there is a time limit set to many benefits and he urges that veterans take advantage of them before these privileges lapse.

GIs, for instance may reinstate their government insurance by attending to it before next January 1. Any veteran wishing advice on reinstatement, conversion or reduction of any type of G. I. insurance should call at the counseling center office at the municipal building across the street from the post office.

Multhaupt also reminds veterans that should they wish to file claim for dental treatment they should do so within one year of their discharge from the service. The veterans are reminded, however, that unless their claims are proven service connected, they will personally have to meet the expense of examination. The veteran seeking this examination should go to any local dentist, all of whom have the necessary forms to deliver to the veteran counselor for settlement.

Most important of all, says Multhaupt, is the fact that veterans who wish to file disability claims must do so within a year following their discharge from the service. In view of the fact that by far the greatest number of discharges from the service were between October and February, it is important that veterans be made aware of the brief time left in which they may file their claims. Vets with even minor disabilities are urged to have them placed on record. They may be very important in years to come.

The city made the appropriation for the lights about a month ago.

Although no time has been set for putting up these decorations it is understood that they will be strung some time about Thanksgiving. Other plans, in keeping with the Yule season, are also under consideration.

Mrs. Frank Arrowood and Mrs. Carl Anderson are leaving today for Grand Rapids where they will attend a meeting of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Disabled Adults being held there this week end.

The two were selected as delegates at a recent meeting of lay members of the local unit.

This organization which works for the benefit of handicapped children and adults conducted a seal campaign here last spring in which $600 was raised. Half of the receipts remained in the county to care for local emergencies and the other half went to the state organization.

The delegates were sent at the suggestion of the state organization to better acquaint people in this vicinity with the work done by the society.

C-C SPONSORS BUCK CONTEST

Offers Prizes For The Biggest And Smallest Bucks Killed In UP

The Manistique Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a contest designed to be of special interest to hunters who visit the Upper Peninsula this season.

For the largest buck brought to Manistique, to be weighed at the city hall weighing station, a prize of $25 will be given to its owner. There is also a second prize of $15 offered for the next largest buck and prizes of $15 and $10 for the smallest and next smallest buck weighed here.

The contest opens with the hunting season and ends on December 7.

Information concerning this contest, in the form of handbills, will be distributed by girls stationed at the embarkation point at the Mackinaw City ferry, a service made possible through the courtesy of the Mackinaw City Chamber of Commerce.

The contest, by the way, is open to residents of Manistique and vicinity as well as visitors.

Although the official opening of the season is still a week away, the trek of hunters to their favorite grounds has already begun.

Lexington Boosts Tobacco Bowl As New Grid Classic
Lexington, Nov. 7 (AP)—Now comes the Tobacco Bowl, another postseason football game with ambitious sponsors who promise it soon will rival the annual lineup of established "classics."

It will differ from the others from the standpoint that it will be played three weeks ahead of the advanced "bowl day," but Jack Bryan, chairman of a three-man committee arranging the inaugural, said the pairing it hoped to offer would carry the necessary "class."

The three games will be played Dec. 10 on the University of Indiana's Still Field. Bryan said letters had been mailed to 18 prospective schools but declined to name any.

"All I can say at this time is that two well-matched collegiate teams will be paired," he said. "We hope to draw them from the top of the list."

The letters, he added, were mailed to schools in the East, South and Midwest.

CROWD TO FOLLOW

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 7 (AP)—Approximately 1,300 students, bandmen and administrative folks from Notre Dame, plus about 2,000 South Bend residents, will follow the Irish footballers to their battle with Army in New York this week-end.

And that 2,000, the South Bend Tribune reports today, "may be conservative."

More than 500 citizens have made reservations on New York-bound trains or planes leaving between today and Saturday. Hundreds of motorists already have hit the highways heading East, and more will be aboard transportation leaving from outside South Bend. Trains leaving today and tomorrow will have extra coaches to accommodate the travelers.

The report indicated a belief that international agreements would be necessary to control production of dried and canned fruits, rice, and other commodities under irrigation. "The opportunities which irrigation afford for increasing the production of citrus and dried and canned fruits greatly exceeds the capacity of Australia to sell such products," the report added.

STOCK OF MSC OUTFIT JUMPS

Russ Reader, Dearborn Ace Halfback, Ready To Rejoin Team

East Lansing, Nov. 7 (AP)—Michigan State College stock took sudden jump on the football market today when halfback Russ Reader—supposedly sidelined for Saturday's game with Michigan because of a knee injury—reported for practice and announced he would play against the Wolverines.

"My knee is still a little stiff," Reader said, "but if it improves as much by Saturday as it has in the last 24 hours, I'll be ready for Michigan. I would sure hate to disappoint those boys down there."

Spartan Coach Charley Bachman said the decision as to whether the Dearborn ace would start will be up to Reader himself.

"If Russ thinks he's ready to go, he'll be in there," Bachman said. Spirit was at its season's peak in the Spartan camp today as the injury riddled MSC squad prepared to meet the Wolverines in a little more than 24 hours.

"The boys were singing in their showers after last night's practice," Coach Charley Bachman remarked. "It's the first time they have done that all season."

To a man, the players asked the coaching staff if they could report for Thursday's practice at 3 p.m.—an hour earlier than usual—in order to brush up on their offensive game. The coaches consented.

Bachman attributed the sudden burst of spirit to a new "secret weapon" made known to the squad after it was realized the Spartans will be at a great disadvantage against Michigan because of the number of men on the injured list. The "weapon" is strictly in the starting lineup.

As the grididers pulled out of South Bend, amid student cheers, the large question remaining were: (A) Whether Lujack could work his all-important moleskin magic, particularly on defense, for a large part—not all—of the 60 minutes, and (B) how much action Simmons, who hit his peak as a ball-carrier in the Navy game last Saturday, and Czarski, in the vital right tackle slot against Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis, would be able to see.

With Lujack's potential playing period a question mark, Leahy again took his place to ready to play Saturday in the top "natural" in gridiron history. In fact, the guessing here was he would be in the starting lineup.

Leahy showed the sports writers travelling with the team how much of the swollen lump above the ankle bone had disappeared, then jogged around the field a few times without a limp and finally took his place in the varsity backfield in a sharpening-up session on pass offense. "Don't worry about me—especially not for this one," he said. "I'll be in there."

Leahy announced, too, that Czarski's starting tackle slot probably would be held down by either Johnny Fallon, 210-pounder from Alton, Ill., with not too much experience, or George Sullivan, an Irish line veteran from East Walpole, Mass. Red Sitko, chunky Lincoln line backer, and Bill Gompers, a speedster from Wheeling, W. Va., are the other right halfbacks besides Simmons.

As the Irish left for Bear Mountain, N. Y., where they'll stay until a few hours before the 2 p.m. (EST) kickoff Saturday, they were still as full of roaring fight as a pack of lions on a red meat diet.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

The amateur boxing program in the Upper Peninsula is being expanded this winter on a broad front, with a result that more intercity amateur matches will be scheduled than in any previous season for many years. Moreover, the sport is being geared entirely to the true spirit of amateur athletics, something that cannot be said for so-called amateur boxing in the days when private promoters were in charge of the sport in many sections of the Upper Peninsula. There are no private amateur boxing promoters in the waterways — to draw their first comfortable breath since late yesterday when the keyman of the team sprained his right ankle in the brassiere, along with Lujack, left aboard the Irish re-union special with the rest of the squad at 4 p.m. (CST) today after turning out for the final two-hour home practice this morning.

Both Lujack, much of the swelling on his ankle gone, and Czarski, still handicapped by a torn hip muscle, actually got into the light work-out. Simmons, whose overnight improvement

from a ruptured leg blood vessel was described by the school physician as "remarkable," contented himself with jogging half a dozen times around the field.
